THE CONDOR FLYER

Science Students "Light up the Flashlight"

Students in Ms. G's Freshman Physical Science Class were learning about electricity and discovering series and parallel circuits. Students were instructed to "Light up the flashlight" using rope, a battery and a flashlight as props. Working together the students developed both a series and parallel circuit and successfully lit up the flashlight! TEAMWORK and RESPECT - always working together in Ms. G's Science Class!

CTECS Challenge: "Write a Love Letter to Yourself"

The CTECS challenge "Write a love letter to yourself" really inspired me so I decided to sign up for it. I found a great Youtube video, which I shared with my sophomore hairdressing class. They really loved the idea of writing a love letter to themselves and couldn't wait to begin writing their own "Love Letter". I loved it because I knew it made them focus on the good things and really helped shift their negative way of thinking about themselves to a more positive way of thinking. I shared the video and photos of my class writing letters with the staff and faculty. My hope is everyone takes this unique opportunity to sit down and look introspectively to find all the wonderful things about them and can fall in love with themselves again. I have the letters in sealed envelopes. I will gift the letters back to them on graduation day so they look back fondly on the special day.

Happy Valentine's Day!

Sincerely,

Mrs. Salmeri

Staff Acknowledgement Award

Thank you!

Collaboration! The boy's basketball team would like to thank IST and Carpentry for help creating faces for our Senior Night. IST printed and laminated them and Carpentry attached them to sticks for the seniors' family and friends to hold up at the game.

Valentine's Day Flower Sale

The Student Council participated in the CAREs Challenge by selling carnations with a small note from students and teachers to their friends and teachers. There were almost 300 carnations sold throughout the week. The Student Council then went from class to class personally delivering the flowers to the recipients. The flowers brought a lot of joy and smiles throughout the building. Pictured is Mrs. Kinard lending a helping hand!

First Responders Club - EpiPen Training

The First Responders Club held an EpiPen training session during club day. Students viewed a training video and afterwards were able to practice what they learned by using EpiPens on their patients. Even Trooper Mach helped out by becoming a patient for the day! EpiPen training devices were generously donated by the Bethany Fire Department.
