CAFETERIA HAUNTED FOR A SPOOKY GOOD TIME

Student Council hosted their annual Halloween Social, filled with fun games and activities to participate in!

HAPPY HALLOWEEN

EOB turned into a live-action Where's Waldo? on Halloween! Did you find them all?

Jake and Elwood Blues took over the 2nd floor academic hallway on Halloween.

FRESHMEN

SOPHOMORES

Thank you to all of the class advisors for helping to organize their students for the Student Council Pumpkin Painting competition. Each class did an amazing job! The pumpkins were again donated to us from Jones' Farm. Each class will receive spirit points depending on their placement for the spirit award at the end of the school year.

The results were as follows:

Fourth - Freshmen

Tied Second - Juniors and Sophomores

First - Seniors

CLASS OF 2026

SIKORSKY REPRESENTATIVE VISITS EOB PMT

Recently, juniors and seniors in the Precision Machining program were honored with a visit from a representative of Sikorsky Aircraft. During the visit, they were presented with a large banner to proudly display in their shop. This banner symbolizes their pride and commitment to the manufacturing trade.

VISITING CONNECTICUT HISTORY

On Tuesday, November 4th, the CTECS History teachers were able to choose from 4 locations to explore various areas of local history throughout the state including the American Museum of Tort Law, the Mark Twain House & Museum, Mystic Seaport, and the Fairfield Museum & History Center.

Mrs. Mullis and Ms. Kinard enjoyed exploring Fairfield's connections with indigenous populations (including analyzing artifacts), going on a walking tour to learn the history of the architecture and burning of Fairfield by the British, and exploring primary sources that help trace the area's industrialization.

EOB students volunteered at Shelton Day, October 5th!

OPEN HOUSE SUCCESS

We had over 250 families attend our open house event on Tuesday October 28th. Hallways and shops were packed with potential future Condors. Great work everyone!

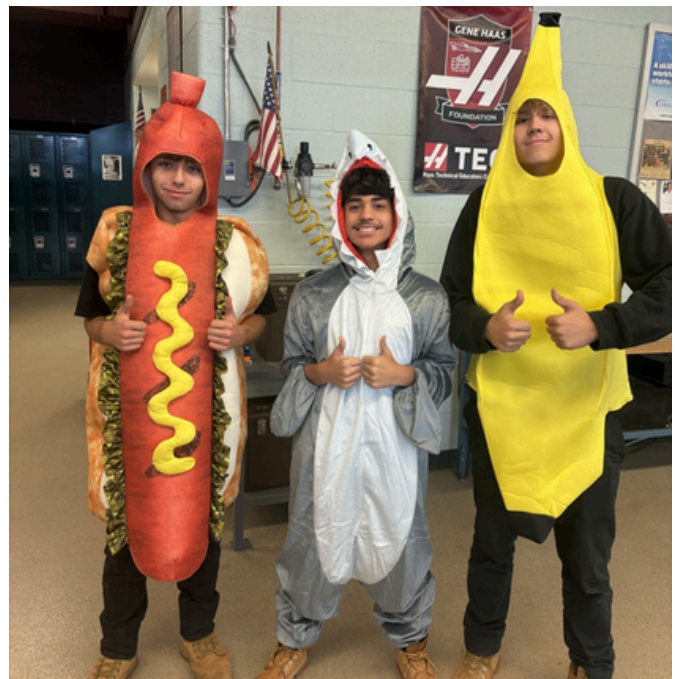

WORDS OF WISDOM

Seniors visited Ms. Phipps's English classes to give some encouraging words of wisdom about the research project to the juniors. Juniors got to learn about how to manage the process in a way that maximizes their efficiency while minimizing their stress.

HOLIDAY SPIRIT

PMT Sophomores were certainly in the holiday spirit with their fun Halloween costumes!

#TWINNING (AGAIN!)

Mrs. Daria must have telepathy, because she matched with another Condor once again! This time, she and Mrs. Carvalho sported matching outfits.

22 STUDENTS INDUCTED INTO EOB NHS CHAPTER

The National Honor Society held its induction ceremony on Thursday night. This year, 22 exceptional students were inducted, joining 15 returning members — bringing our total to 37 NHS members who exemplify scholarship, leadership, service, and character. The ceremony took place in our gym, followed by a buffet dinner in the cafeteria prepared by Chef Costa and our talented Culinary Department.

Our keynote speaker, Mr. Moran — an EOB alumnus and current IT teacher — shared his inspiring career journey and how the skills he gained at EOB helped shape his success. Mrs. Dunn presented each inductee with their certificate and Mr. Behun reflected on the achievements of the current senior members. Abby Rogucki and Ava DelValle chaired the event and did a fantastic job!

The new inductees are:

STUDENT SHIELDS

Mr. Brennan's freshman English classes have been studying Literary Devices. For this project, students had to create a shield that used pictures only to express who they were. For each shield, the students had to illustrate their personalities, their hobbies, a trade they were interested in and something representing their ethnic/cultural background.

Check out some of this wonderful student artwork!

ON PRODUCTION: CARPENTRY

Check out the Carpentry Class of 2027 working on a deck for outside production this fall!

FALL CRAFT FAIR

The Craft Fair was held on Saturday, October 4, 2025, here at Emmett O'Brien. The Chairpersons for this event were Aiden Ghelmegeanu and Logan Cocoltchos. It was well attended and had 49 tables with various vendors and community outreach programs.

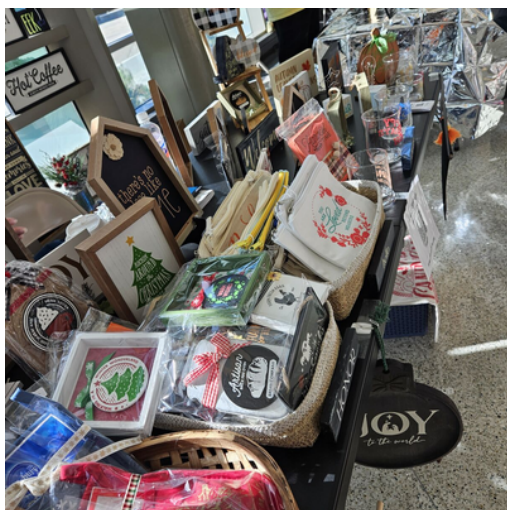

Chef Costa, as usual, created delicious breakfast and lunch items that were enjoyed by all. The SkillsUSA students were thrilled to serve the customers and help with the event!

There was so much support for this event from current staff and students, 13 Alumni, and a few past faculty, which was greatly appreciated by both Chef Costa and Mrs. Marra!

Vendors even sent thank-you cards to the advisors for a well-executed event. Students were thrilled to see their teachers as vendors and learning about their hobbies! NHS kick-started the EOB goes PINK, and the Student Council began the food drive. It was a highlight to see Alumni buying the PINK bracelets and reminiscing about their events, along with current students dropping off canned items at the craft fair tables.

During the Craft Fair, Jacob Raymo along with artist Franshesca Velasquez, created 24 Veteran cards to be handed out at the Luncheon this year. They were able to get the public involved in creating the cards and providing activities for children in attendance as well. Sophomores Meghan Lundequist and Yanelis Cabrera created pins for the Alumni in attendance.

Thank you to everyone who helped support this community event!
